BRITISH NOTE MEETS WITH WIDESPREAD PRESS APPROVAL

Changed Policy Is In Accordance With New Impulse Of German Policy

"Daily Telegraph" On Grim And Ghastly Prospect

LONDON, June 29 (BWS)—German assertions that a policy of encirclement is being pursued are strongly repudiated in a Note delivered to the German Government on Tuesday and the terms of the Note meet with widespread approval in the morning press. Much reference is also made to Mr. Winston Churchill's grave speech to the City-Parliament Club yesterday.

"The Times" says: "It is indeed the consistent desire of Great Britain to establish Anglo-German relations on the basis of mutual confidence and goodwill. If British policy has changed, it has changed only in accordance with the new impulse of German policy. So long as Herr Hitler was concerned with removing what might, with certain right, be regarded as injustices of the Treaty of Versailles, the British attitude was friendly and acquiescent even when his methods were unnecessarily abrupt and violent."

Now that he has gone far beyond revision and has suppressed the freedom of one nation and appears to threaten that of others, Great Britain has come to the help of those states which feel their independence to be in danger. So far, the help is purely diplomatic. It will never be anything else, unless the countries concerned become objects of aggression."

NO SIGN OF CRACK IN MORALE OF CHINESE

LONDON, June 29 (Reuter)—The labour parties in China have invited the British Trade Union movement to send a representative delegation to see for themselves what is going on there and how China is trying to face up to her responsibilities, announced Mr. H. J. Timperley, former correspondent of the "Manchester Guardian" in China, speaking at the National Trade Union Club.

The speaker added that there was no sign of any crack in the Chinese morale and unity and no diminution of confidence in Chinese leadership.

ATTACK ON JUNK: ONE MAN HELD

SHOTS FIRED BY ROBBERS

In a report to the police, Kung Kau, 30, fook of junk No. 1840E, stated that while sailing off Tung Ku Lighthouse on June 21 with a cargo of village wood, valued at $110, and four jars of wine, a small fishing boat suddenly approached and fired a few shots. The robbers ordered the fook of the junk to lower their sails and to drop anchor. Two of the five robbers then boarded the junk and ushered the fook into the hold, covering them with a revolver.

The junk fook was later landed at Ma Wan Shan, near Nam Tau district, about 4 a.m. the following day. Kung reported the matter to the Hong Kong authorities and returned to his home yesterday. The junk was also recovered, with a balance of 80 piculs of firewood, at Tai O.

DR. SPAHO DEAD

The Yugoslavian Minister of Transport and Communications, Dr. Mehmed Spaho, died suddenly yesterday morning in Belgrade. Dr. Spaho, who was 58 years old, was one of the leading political personages of Yugoslavia and he was the undisputed leader of Bosnian Moslems for three decades. (Transocean)

Part of the Italian Fleet which is holding manoeuvres in the Mediterranean has arrived at Barcelona for a visit of five days, says a Reuter message.

PRACTICAL DEMONSTRATION OF SYMPATHY FOR CHINA

Surgeon Tells Of Work Of Indian Medical Unit

"OUR WORK IS A PRACTICAL DEMONSTRATION OF INDIA'S SYMPATHY TOWARDS CHINA IN HER STRUGGLE AGAINST JAPANESE AGGRESSION," said Dr. M. R. Cholkar, deputy leader of the Medical Mission sent to the Chinese war front by the Indian National Congress, in an interview with a "Daily Press" representative yesterday.

The mission has been giving medical aid to China's wounded in the field since its arrival last September, and its giant bullet-proof ambulance has travelled thousands of miles throughout the country. Now Dr. Cholkar is on his way back to India, where he will deliver messages from Chinese leaders and report on his experiences.

The other four members of the mission, headed by its leader, Dr. Atal, are remaining in Yenan North Shensi, where they comprise the surgical section of the model hospital of the Eighth Route Army. Sketching the career of the unit, Dr. Cholkar told how it worked in Hankow until shortly before the evacuation, then moved to Ichang. It was only in Chungking that its ambulance, which was shipped later, caught up with it, and from the capital it carried the members to the Northwest. They arrived at Yenan in February.

Expressing his satisfaction at the co-operation which the mission received everywhere in China, the doctor said that he was struck especially by the warm welcome it met from the people and the soldiers. "We were treated, and felt, like brothers," he said.

The medical service of the army is efficient and improving constantly, but supplies are terribly scarce. This, according to Dr. Cholkar, characterises the situation in the North. "There are many wounded, and almost as many sick. We need not only surgical instruments and dressings but also quinine and specific drugs for such diseases as Kala-azar, which now takes a great toll of life," he concluded.

Dr. Cholkar sails on Saturday

Criticism Against Britain And France

SLOW PROGRESS IN THREE-POWER PACT PARLEYS

MOSCOW, June 29 (Reuter)—Criticism against Britain and France, particularly the former, for the slow progress in the three-power pact negotiations, was made by the Soviet Deputy M. Shdanov, in "Pravda."

The Deputy complains that despite all efforts of the Soviet Government, an early conclusion of the pact no substantial progress is observed.

After recapitulating the stages of the negotiations, M. Shdanov concludes that the shows that Britain and France desire a treaty with the USSR upon principles of equality.

The writer adds, "The U.S.S.R. is not a part of labourer and the entire burden of the pact is being shifted to the shoulders of the country which is not a party to it. It is a play-acting in the hands of people who like others to pull chestnuts out of the fire for them."

Still less can the U.S.S.R., whose power and dignity is known to the entire world, agree to such a treaty.

AMAH MISSING

An amah employed at No. 21 Tai Hang Road, second floor, who took the five-months-old son of her master to see a doctor at 10 a.m. on June 28, is reported to be missing with the baby.

King Zog and Queen Geraldine and their infant son are leaving Istanbul for France where they have rented a chateau near Versailles, says a Reuter message from Istanbul.

The balancing act.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL

HON. MR. M. K. LO OPPOSES TELECOMMUNICATIONS ORDINANCE AMENDMENT

When the Attorney-General (Hon. Mr. C. G. Alabaster) rose at yesterday's meeting of the Legislative Council to move the second reading of the Bill to amend the Telecommunications Ordinance, the Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo, in opposing its passage, said:—"Your Excellency: Having studied the provisions of this Bill with some care, I regret that I find it my duty to oppose the motion now before the Council."

"As I understand the provisions, the Postmaster-General can authorise any public officer without any other formality or warrant, and subject to only one condition, to which I shall refer later, to arrest anyone, to search the person, or property of anyone, and to search any place, and to seize and retain certain articles, and for all these purposes to break open doors, force entry, and to forcibly remove persons, property etc., and, as I read this authority, it can be so general that the public officer invested with these extraordinary powers can exercise them irrespective of period and condition."

"The conditions I referred to seem to be merely these; that that officer need only have reason to suspect that a person is contravening any of the provisions of this Ordinance and any regulation therein, and that, as regards seizure, there need only be reason to suspect that certain offence had been committed in respect of the goods, or articles concerned."

"A relevant question to ask is what are the provisions of this Ordinance breach of which will entitle a public officer to exercise these extraordinary powers? It seems to me that the answer—a rather disquieting and startling answer—is contained in Section 36 (1) of the existing Ordinance."

Mr. Lo here quoted from that section. Going on, the speaker said that he had not had the time to wade through the whole of the Ordinance, or the conditions, but quite casually he had come across

Kukuljevic Sweeps Choy With Service

YUGOSLAV WINS AT WIMBLEDON

LONDON, June 29 (Reuter)—Kukuljevic, the Yugoslavian player, advanced to the fourth round of the men's singles at Wimbledon when he defeated W. C. Choy, of China, in straight sets the scores being 6-4, 7-5, 6-4.

The Yugoslav's terrific service often ricocheted into the crowd when Choy attempted to retrieve it. The Chinese Davis Cupper was continually running from side to side retrieving Kukuljevic's acutely angled drives and volleys.

Choy saved set point at 3-5. In the first set Choy led 2-1, 3-2, 6-4 and in the second, the Yugoslav took the set game to love with four aces, which feat he repeated in the fourth game of the final set.

In the second round, Kukuljevic defeated McNeil, the United States and French champion, and a seeded player.

The Russian Army manoeuvres this autumn, will take place on the Baltic border. Formerly the manoeuvres were held near the western border.

Paris Press Fears Nazi Coup In

The Danzig

OBLIGATIONS TO POLAND WILL BE FULFILLED

PARIS, June 29 (Reuter)—Following reports of the arrival of German troops and arms in the Danzig the press fears a Nazi coup and warns Germany that Britain and France will fulfil their obligations to Poland.

"Figaro" says that German troops will be instructors in the Danzig Free Corps designed to check the Polish advance and enable the German armies to cross the Vistula.

"L'Ordre" says that if Hitler wins in the Danzig he will become master of all nations in eastern Europe.

The paper adds that the French Premier, M. Daladier, as his speech on Tuesday showed, has no illusions. Unfortunately Mr. Chamberlain continually encourages the Nazis by hesitating and ambiguous speeches leading to fear. He envisages a new Munich which will mean an end to Franco-British power.

SIGNIFICANT PORTS

WARSAW, June 29 (Reuter)—President Moscicki, in a speech at address, emphasised that the ports of Gdynia and Danzig had exceptionally great significance for Poland's national economy. He added that that was why the Danzig was bound to Poland, by so many ties for the past centuries. President Moscicki declared that both ports are freely open to merchant flags of all nations.

WATCHFULNESS

WARSAW, June 29 (Reuter)—There are no signs of agitation here following reports of Nazi military preparations in the Danzig. The press has asked whether a putsch is impending. Rumours of possible trouble abound but the general attitude can be summed up as one of vigilance and watchfulness.

MAN WHO FIRED AT DUCHESS OF KENT

Welder's Assistant Bound Over

LONDON, June 29 (Reuter)—Lewdedge Vincent Lawlor, aged 45, welder's assistant living in Walworth, was bound over at the Old Bailey this morning for twelve months on condition that he returned to Australia within a month.

Lawlor was charged with having in his possession at Belgrave Square, a firearm and ammunition with intent to endanger life, or cause serious injury to property. He fired at a car in which was the Duchess of Kent and Lady Portarlington, who was accompanying Her Royal Highness.

The accused was also charged with a similar offence on June 4 when a window in Lord Harewood's house was broken by a bullet.

According to police evidence, Lawlor, who was a native of New Zealand, had no convictions recorded against him. In 1932 he became mentally unbalanced and had been in mental homes.

The Crown case against Lawlor was outlined at the Westminster Police Court on June 13 by counsel for the Director of Public Prosecutions.

GALLANT GALENTO

"TWO-TON" TONY TAKES TERRIFIC THRASHING

LOUIS WINS IN FOURTH ROUND

NEW YORK, June 29 (Reuter).—Staggering helplessly into the arms of the referee.

"Two-Ton" Tony Galento, after a very game fight, was unable to survive the murderous face blows which Joe Louis, the "Brown Bomber," and heavyweight champion, suddenly unleashed, in the fourth round of yesterday's title fight at the Yankee Stadium.

With blood streaming from his agonised face, Galento lost his first—and undoubtedly his last—bid for the world's title, as the referee held him, half sagging to his knees, and stopped the uneven encounter after 2 min. 39 sec. in the fourth round.

Crowd Stirred

Galento, by a magnificent early attack, in which Louis was felled and he himself got up from a terrific floer, stirred the crowd to the point of pandemonium.

Galento was very dangerous with his awkward weaving style and his sudden-leaping in bothered the negro.

But when he straightened up, he presented a wonderful mark for Louis.

Galento, for long before the fight, was the butt of humorous sports writers, but he showed no particle of fear, standing up to one of the biggest killers for years.

First Round

Both men sparred and then fell into a clinch in the opening round.

Louis retaliated, but it was Galento's round.

Second Round

Galento opened the second round with a left hook, but he was soon bleeding badly from his nose when Louis started jabbing.

Louis repeated his jabs and Galento fell into a clinch.

He broke away and sent Louis down from a right hook, but there was no count.

Galento attacked again, and landed a left hook to the chin and another to the jaw, rocking Louis.

Two-Fisted Attack

Galento followed up and landed on Louis' jaw with a left hook.

Louis next launched a two-fisted attack to the body and then cut Galento's lip.

Louis attacked fiercely and landed hard rights to Tony's jaw.

Galento was soon in trouble and was floored with a terrific right, but was up after a count of one.

This was Louis' round.

Louis Rocked

In the third and fourth rounds Galento forced the pace and rocked Louis with a left to the body.

Louis retaliated, and landed a series of hard lefts and then four terrific right hooks.

Galento was very game, but the referee stopped the fight.

Best Display

Galento roughly shook off a policeman who was trying to assist him.

Galento's gave the best display against Louis, except for Bob Pastor, Tommy Farr and Jim Braddock, and some times the champion looked actually bad.

Galento, somewhat incoherent, was greeted in his dressing room by his wife.

"I was just careless," he said, "and threw up my guard in the fourth, but anyhow I could not see by that time."

"I certainly would like a return fight."

To Fight Farr?
Louis, interviewed by Reuter in his dressing room, said: "It was one of the toughest fights I ever had. Tony is a good and very game fighter and can hit."

Asked if he was interested in going to England to meet Tommy

Joe Louis, the "Brown Bomber," who won a T.K.O. victory in the 4th round against Tony Galento on Wednesday night at the Yankee Stadium.

Farr, Louis said: "I would like it very much."

The champion was completely unmarked, except for a small bruise over his right eye.

Louis said he would fight only once more this year, either against Farr in London or Lou Nova in America.

He said he was considering offers from Gen. C. Bailey, the London promoter.

ERIC BOON WINS ON KNOCK-OUT

PETERBOROUGH, June 29 (Reuter).—Eric Boon, the British Lightweight Champion, knocked out the Scotsman, Johnny McGrory, former Featherweight champion in the ninth round of their fight which was over twelve rounds.

McGrory was down for a count of eight in the first round, but showed a better defence afterwards, until the ninth, when the severe attack told on him.

"SPIDER" KELLY BEATEN

BELFAST, June 29 (Reuter).—Johnny Cusik, of Manchester, won the British and Empire Featherweight titles, beating the holder, "Spider" Kelly, of Belfast, the referee stopping the fight in twelfth round. The bout was over fifteen rounds.

It was a fast fight. Cusik opened an old cut over Kelly's eye in the fourth round.

Kelly attacked hard in the eighth, when Cusik landed a right hook to the jaw and put Kelly down for a count of four.

Kelly was being severely punished when the referee stopped the fight.

SIMPLICITY IS KEYNOTE OF CHARM IN DRESS

DO NOT LET SHOES BETRAY YOU: ICY SHOWER BENEFITS

The definition of charm still baffles the phrase-dogists. But this much we know: a charming woman has poise, a sense of harmony and fitness, and good taste in dress and grooming. There's the matter of over-dressing, an absurdity which is caricatured most effectively every day in our streets. If you have difficulty resisting the extra piece of costume jewelry, flower, veil, feather or bright flip of a handkerchief in your pocket, then give in and look at yourself hard and long in the mirror. You will see it just does not "go."

Simplicity is the keynote of charm in dress. Here is a tip: take one accent in your costume and make it important. Give your simple gown distinction with one smart piece of costume jewelry. But leave off all Christmas-tree trimmings.

Forego flowers on your shoulder, or in your lapel, if you wear them in your hair or on your hat. An elaborately coiffed head rarely needs any other ornament. Accent such a headpiece with a simple gown. If you go to the other extreme in costume, style your hair plainly.

SPELL CONFUSION

Remember that every detail of trimming, including each visible dart or pleat, constitutes a line to attract the eye of the onlooker. Many of these also spell confusion.

Don't let your shoes betray you. There is an ideal heel for every ankle, and it's worth your while to search for yours. Where the ankle is thick, an extreme heel, which throws it high in a tortured line, adds bulk and distorts the arch and calf. A lower heel is more slimming. But over-flat shoes are still more unbecoming. If you wear them, for active sports, choose the ghillie type to flatter your ankle. Nothing helps more to put you at your ease than a properly fitted shoe. It should be an inch longer than the big toe when you stand, and wide enough to give the toes freedom of movement. Unless your feet are a point of pride, don't call attention to them with fancy-cut shoes.

NOT TOO TIGHTLY

Don't tug at your girdle. A foundation garment does not ride up if it is long enough to hug the hips when you sit down. has stout elastic to stretch and contract, and is not fitted too tightly. Change the elastic often in the garters and strap them tautly.

The pantie type of girdle, or rubber spliced net or feather-weight elastic, is an excellent choice, if you need only a slight support. You can make a similar garment yourself out of stout satin, as many fashion models do. They are patterned after dancing shorts, and are close-fitting, slide-fastened and snugly gartered, to give smooth firm contours and to stay fixed to the body.

AVOID MANNERISMS

Avoid mannerisms that subject you to caricature, such as angular jerks of the arms and hands, fluttery re-arrangement of hair or dress, and ungraceful movements of knees and feet.

Where is charm in a stepped-from the bandbox freshness of appearance. A fresh and never too obvious make-up, shining hair and clean glowing skin are axiomatic. As a preliminary to your bath, give yourself a vigorous dry brushing to arouse the circulation, bring up a pink glow, and tone your skin. Don't overlook the benefits of an icy shower to tone the flesh after a warm soaking in the tub. It helps to prevent flabby skin.

ROUND THE SHOPS

Sales, midsummer ones, and in specialty shops. And if you bargains too, the shopper will find coming up this coming week. Many of the shops are bursting forth with sale days and large stock discounts which certainly will help the wardrobe situation for the rest of summer.

But don't delay, you know what will happen, the shop will not have your size, or that dress you have had your eye on for the past three weeks will walk out of the store under someone else's arm.

LOVE SET!

Though you cannot do any better than be on the losing end of a love set in tennis, you can at least appear smart, cool and chic in a tennis costume, which matters not the score you will love.

All right, into Lane, Crawford and there you will find the tennis ensemble in the Colony. Tennis dresses in white "Robene", two and one-piece. The blouse and pleated shorts are one having a wrap round skirt buttoning down the front. And you do not have to confine these well-tailored and washable costumes to a tennis court, any sports activity they will satisfy.

The tennis socks of ribbed knit in white or colours are simple but extremely smart at the ankle. Too, new tennis shoes have just arrived with crepe or smooth rubber soles.

And the word of cheer regarding such a costume is the new styled "brieffs" for women. An airtex mesh, abbreviated pantie which fits like a glove and has no surplus material. When laundered this garment retains a certain amount of elasticity which is helpful in any active sport. They are mere handkerchiefs and just the thing for shorts, playsuits or slacks.

25 PER CENT. OFF

Going, going, gone, the particular bonnet, dress or accessory item in MAYOS. This shop is holding forth with their mid-summer sale on all merchandise displayed. Hats, sport or dressy, fabric or straw; frocks for morning, noon and night—And accessories of jewellery, blouses, flowers, yardage, gadgets. Twenty-five per cent. reduction.

The cotton frocks which were very inexpensive are now on sale and such bargains. Laces, volles, plaques, linens, lawns, percales, all these materials fashioned in the latest modes. Remember July and August, it can be hot and such garments are most useful. Too, vacation voyagers will appreciate the prices, styles and addition to their wardrobe.

FASHION'S SPECIALTIES

The fastidious woman is nearly always well dressed. There are certain styles for definite occasions and the places to find them are

COSTUME JEWELLERY

The "exclusive note" of summer costumes is provided by a certain piece of costume jewellery.

A few of the latest fashions in this costume accessory are borrowed from sugared popcorn balls, bracelet and necklace matching. The set is made of white enameled wood, light as air, studded with tiny gold nailheads and strung on a silk cord. Another creation is inspired by Jordan almonds, in pastel shades and strung also on silk.

Other creations adopted this season are from peppermint balls, gum drops and even chocolate drops, made in combination necklaces and bracelets.

ODD COLLECTION

Women are putting almost as many strikingly queer things around their necks as they put on their heads. And this is true due to the odd collection of ornamental jewels they are wearing.

Don't be surprised if you see a girl with little spoons of darning cotton strung from a neck chain. Gay buttons, bright bits of metal, tiny imitation fruits are all in order for summer wear.

The many little gadgets which made the charm bracelets of last season so popular may now be incorporated into charm necklaces. The charms may be all the same or may be widely varied. Any theme, sports, business or frivolity, may be carried out in these pieces.

How Are Your Feet?

The season of bare feet and legs is with us. It is time to start re-conditioning treatments if you hope to leave the footprints of beauty on summer sands.

Your feet should be free from callouses, corns, knots and stains. The skin must be attractive and supple.

Begin with a medium stiff foot brush and use it every day in your bath. This will relax knots and will increase the circulation which helps the skin's appearance.

Corns are among the most common woes of mankind. And far too many women try to get rid of them by cutting. Never cut corns. Ask your druggist to make up for you a solution of 5 per cent. salicylic acid in collodion. Every morning and evening, after washing and drying your feet, apply this solution to the corns with a wad of cotton wrapped around a stick.

SOAK IN HOT WATER

In four or five days the corn will be ready to be removed. Soak the feet in hot water, then gently lift the corn. If it clings continue the treatment a few days more until it does lift out, never tear it off.

Callouses will usually melt away under the regular application of your hand lotion. However, if the callouses seem stubborn, give it the treatment suggested for corns. Or rub the callouses gently with pumice stone after your bath.

Massage of the feet is necessary if you hope to have them look their best. Use a good cold cream and work it in well. Trim your nails straight across, using special nail nippers. Do not, under any misguided circumstances cut your toenails into points, nor should you ever cut them in curves.

Then you won't have to bury your toes in the sand!

HOLLYWOOD STAGES A WEDDING

Maid of honour: Blonde Vicki Lester, gowned in pale blue starched organdie, hand-embroidered with garlands of pink flowers. Full puffed sleeves add a picturesque note. Her hat is a twist of tulle, trimmed with knot of valley lilies.

MAKE-UP RULES—WHEN YOU'RE FIFTY

Clothes will do a lot for your hair styles, and hats will do plenty for the contour of your head. Now for some advice about shedding the years from your face. Do not forsake make-up; it is more important now than ever it was.

Never wear rouge over wrinkles, pouches under the eyes. This sinks them and takes away the bloodless look.

Don't wear a white powder even if you have white hair. It will make your rouge stand out in ghastly fashion. Your skin is paler than in youth, but it still has rose creamy tints. Match them carefully.

Pat on powder without moving the puff. Drawing the puff across the face makes powder catch in wrinkles and results in visible streaks.

Don't be afraid of lipstick. Make up your neck along with your face. A youthful face rising from an ageing neck is a dead give-away. (Neck make up will include powder foundation and powder.)

CONFIDE IN FAITH PRIOR

ENGAGED feels something is lacking. Her to-be-husband appears much in love introduces her to all his friends and speaks constantly of the forthcoming marriage. However, he has not given her an engagement ring, she feels this deeply and says, "the value of the ring does not count—it is the idea." What should she do?

There are many modern women to-day who do not care about engagement rings. Some of them prefer to wait until the fiancée are in a sounder condition, then have a beautiful ring to wear with their wedding band. But there are many who think as you do, an engaged girl is entitled to an engagement ring. Try the following: privately arrange to have some of our tactful jewelers write to the gentleman, mentioning the fact that they are aware of his engagement through the newspapers to the charming Miss So-So., and crave the honour of providing the engagement and wedding ring thereto. If this does not work, you may have an intimate friend inquire in the presence of your fiancé regarding the engagement ring she has not seen. But try the first suggestion before the later.

ZENOBIAS?

DEBATER WISHES to know who "Zenobia" was, during the past week there have been hectic arguments over this woman.

It appears that this city of ours needs a library. There were two "Zenobias." Greatest was the Queen of Palmyra, 286 A.D., led armies, spoke five languages, bossed the country rather well. After a military defeat she was captured by the Romans, but they gave her a nice house, where she lived the rest of her life with her children. The other was the wife of the King of Armenia, A.D. 50. Her spouse threw her into the river "to save her from the enemy," but some shepherds rescued her. (All from Lippincott's Biographical Dictionary. We are not showing off our learning!)

DON'T RISK IT

A HOSTESS is giving a dinner for twenty people. Due to the unusual place cards, she is having difficulty in seating, and inquires if it is proper to have husband and wives sitting together?

Don't risk it, you will let yourself in for trouble before the evening is over...If you cannot afford these expensive place cards for each person, then go without. In other words, if you can't do something right, then don't do it at all! In such a large gathering it is dangerous to put husbands and wives together. Don't forget they are on parade and everyone of them may have certain temperamental quirks which are displayed in public. Oh no! never put them together!

ALIENIST

DEAR FAITH PRIOR: I know what an alien is, he's the guy that was born in the wrong country. And I know what alienation of affections means, that's when the one that had'em one time, lost his lure. But I'm darned if I know what alienist means, when they attach it to two witnesses in a criminal trial, one saying the defendant is mad and the other saying he's sane. How would you like to put me correct on this business? May-be-Dumb.

Dear Mr. Dumb: Everyone should be able to take a certain amount of "kidding," and we are up to it. You know very well you'd love to be an alienist, with fees attached. Webster says he is a doctor engaged in the study and treatment of mental diseases. When he is a witness he just says what he thinks, even as you and I, only he gets paid for it, right or wrong. So it's a nice thing to be! It does not necessarily have a thing to do with citizenship or affections, and alienists are never supposed to be mentally deranged themselves!

(Each week in this column FAITH PRIOR answers questions of a personal nature submitted by readers of the "Daily Press".)

MARLENE DIETRICH GIVES UP HER GEMS

NEW YORK, June 14.—When film star Marlene Dietrich arrived at New York pier to-day, with husband and adopted daughter, and boarded the Normandie to sail for Europe, she found her entire luggage—thirty four trunks and two bags—on the deck, guarded by revenue officials.
They were holding the luggage as "hostage"—until Marlene paid £55,800, income tax they said was owing.

Marlene argued; so did the Revenue officials. Crowds milled around.

The officials couldn't make up their minds whether to allow the luggage to sail or not. To the great delight of the rubbernecks, perspiring porters heaved it from boat to pier, pier to boat, each time the officials changed their minds.

Fed Up

Marlene, fed up, said she didn't care if she had to sail without her thirty-six pieces.

"You can't," yelled the rubbernecks, "remember, you're the world's best-dressed woman!"
"I don't understand this at all," wailed Marlene. "I'm an American citizen (from last week) and I don't owe any income tax."

"In 1936 and 1937 I paid £21,000 each year. I didn't work in 1938, so I can't imagine why they are holding my things."
Revenue officials explained that in 1936 and 1937 Marlene was a resident alien, liable to pay tax on income from any source. And she made a picture in England. It was for that that they wanted £55,800.

Angrier and Angrier

Marlene grew angrier and angrier and when the tax officials would not allow her husband to join her on board she raved, "Am I a criminal?"

All this took time, and already the French line had held the Normandie for an hour and forty minutes. Something had to be done.

So once more the thirty-six pieces of luggage were heaved aboard and there and then, on the deck, Marlene unpacked emeralds and diamonds worth £20,000, handed them over "on account."
This time the luggage stayed aboard and the Normandie sailed.

DEPLORABLE CASE

BRITAIN AWAITING REPLY TO PROTEST
ON MR. TINKLER'S
DEATH

LONDON, June 28 (Reuter).—In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. R.A. Butler, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, said that urgent instructions had been sent to Sir Robert Craigie, British Ambassador in Tokyo, to press for an early reply to the British protest in regard to the death of Mr. R.M. Tinkler in Shanghai.

Mr. Noel Baker (Lab) asked whether the Government would consider effective measures to stop Japanese trade in British territory, but Mr. Butler counselled awaiting a reply in this particular case.

He said that the whole facts in this deplorable case had been presented to the Japanese Government.

Mr. Christopher Robin Milne, the hero of so many children's poems written by his father, Mr. A. A. Milne, is growing up.

He is leaving Stowe at the end of this term and is going to Trinity College, Cambridge, where he has won a £100 scholarship in mathematics.

MARLENE'S EVENING RUINED

Marlene Dietrich, who has just become an American citizen, went into a night club looking radiant in a heel-length creation of heavy white tulle in Grecian style, with hood to match.

She smiled all round; then her smile froze, and she gasped. Sitting at a few tables away was Mrs. Dudley Roberts, junior, young New York society matron, wearing exactly the same dress and hood.

Marlene turned crimson and, exclaiming, "This has ruined my evening," stalked off, followed by an embarrassed young man who was her escort.

"Well," said Mrs. Roberts, "I was there first. I saw Miss Dietrich come in, and I saw our dresses were the same. But after all, you know, what does it matter? I think it's all very foolish. It doesn't bother me; I don't see why it should bother her."

"POSTMASTER-GENERAL GIVEN DUAL POSITION OF JUDGE AND PROSECUTOR"

Telecommunications Amendment Bill Strongly Criticised By The Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo

STRONG CRITICISM OF CERTAIN ASPECTS OF THE BILL TO AMEND THE TELECOMMUNICATIONS ORDINANCE, 1939, was voiced by the Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo, Chinese Unofficial Member, at yesterday's meeting of the Legislative Council, at which a heavy agenda was dealt with. Amongst the points attacked by Mr. Lo were that "the Bill put the Postmaster-General in the dual position of judge and prosecutor" and gave a public officer, "including a police constable" more powers "than a police constable in England enjoyed."

"COMMERCIAL AND CONTRACTUAL, POLITICAL & MILITARY" REASONS

Following a reply by the Attorney-General, Hon. Mr. C. G. Alabaster, who gave "commercial and contractual, political and military" reasons why the Bill must at once become law, the Hon. Mr. Lo asked for a division, when the Bill was passed by 16 votes to 1, all other Members, Official and Unofficial, returning "Aye's."

Other Bills passed at the meeting, following second and third readings, were:—"A Bill to amend the Merchant Shipping Ordinance, 1899"; "A Bill to continue and amend the Sterling Salaries Conversion Ordinance, 1937"; "A Bill to amend the Naval Volunteer Ordinance, 1933, and provide for Naval Defence"; "A Bill to amend the Rating Ordinance, 1901"; "A Bill to amend the Dangerous Goods Ordinance, 1873"; and "A Bill to amend the Pensions Ordinance, 1932."

BANKNOTE ISSUE BILL

In connection with the Banknote Issue Bill, which was introduced in Council for the first time, the Attorney-General said: "I think it is essential that this Bill is passed into law before July 12 and, as it is not anticipated that there will be another meeting of this Council before July 12, I now move that the Standing Orders be suspended in so much as prevents this Bill passing through all its stages today."

With regard to this Bill, official description of which reads: "A Bill to extend for a further period the powers of the Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China, the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation and the Mercantile Bank of India Limited to make, issue, re-issue and circulate notes," the Financial Secretary had previously issued the following statement:—

The legal powers of the banks in Hongkong to issue notes expire on July 12, 1939. It will be necessary at a future date to revise the conditions on which notes are issued, but meanwhile it is desired to enable the banks concerned to carry on as at present, and the proposed ordinance accordingly provides for the extension from time to time to the banks' powers of issue.

The proposed new ordinance is concerned only with the machinery for the issue of notes and will in no way affect the present arrangements for maintaining the exchange value of the Hongkong dollar by means of the operations of the Exchange Fund.

BUDGET AND A.R.P.

The Colonial Secretary said:—When the Budget for 1939 was introduced last year, it was indicated that the exact measures to be taken in the sphere of air raid precautions were still under consideration. A full survey of the requirements was then being made and on its completion a programme covering the essential minimum was submitted to the Secretary of State and his expert advisers.

The necessary measures include the provision of sandbags for the protection of public buildings and structural alterations to such buildings, the addition of supplementary fire appliances and reserve medical stores and the acquisition of respirators for issue to essential services and of protective clothing and equipment for decontamination squads.

In addition, it is proposed to make grants, on a basis to be agreed, to assist public utility companies for safeguarding essential services. Plans have also been prepared for other measures, including the digging of trenches, which will not be actually put in hand until an emergency arises.

After careful consideration, the conclusion has been reached that apart from the enormous expense entailed it is not practicable to attempt any large scale schemes of protection for the general public such as tunnels, steel shelters and the like.

Underground Shelters

Tunnels or other underground shelters could, of course, be constructed, but the configuration of the land renders it impossible to place them so that access could be gained to them from the centres of dense population within the few minutes period of warning which is all that can be expected.

The existence of such shelters would, therefore, be merely a temptation to people to leave the relatively greater safety of their homes. It appears to be certain that in most cases such fugitives would fail to reach their objectives in time.

Householders are, therefore, recommended to take whatever steps they can to strengthen the ground floor of their houses, as advised by the Air Raid Precautions Officer.

As regards protection against gas an organisation is to be set up which will enable civilians to purchase respirators at cost price. The respirators will be kept for the purchaser by Government in an air-conditioned store and issued on demand. A further announcement as to the details of this scheme and as to how applications under it should be made will be published later by the Air Raid Precautions Officer.

Heavy Expenditure

The carrying out of this programme has involved and will involve expenditure very substantially in excess of the provision approved in the 1939 Estimates. Apart from the incidental expenses of the Air Raid Precautions Department that provision consisted of the sums of $250,000 for all kinds of mobilization stores and $200,000 for public works, including a new store.

The further expenditure this year for which covering authority will now be required exceeds $1,500,000 and the necessary formal votes will be submitted for the consideration of Finance Committee at this afternoon's meeting. Estimates for further expenditure next year will be included in the ordinary Estimates for 1940-41.

ASSESSMENT SIR H. POLLOCK'S QUESTION

Pursuant to notice, Sir Henry Pollock asked: Has the assessment for the year 1939/1940 been completed? If so, will the Government give the figures of the new rateable values as compared with those for 1938/1939?

The Colonial Secretary replied:—The totals of the new valuations for the several divisions of the rating area are shown in the following table, together with comparative figures for the assessment year 1938/1939:—

District	Valuation 1938-1939	Valuation 1939-1940
City of Victoria	$21,346,621	$24,657,053
H.K. Villages	3,828,927	4,279,463
Kowloon	8,118,336	10,085,784
New K'loon	2,208,738	2,892,772
	$35,502,622	$41,915,072

WIDOWS, ORPHANS PENSION FUND

Moving the resolution relating to the Widows' and Orphans' Pension Fund, the Colonial Secretary said:—On the June 1, last year, this Council adopted a resolution modifying a former resolution of August 2, 1902, laying down the rate of exchange at which pensions under the Widows' and Orphans' Pension Scheme expressed in dollars should be paid in England. It was then the intention to pay all such pensions awarded in future at the current rate of exchange.

It has since, however, been represented by certain officers that they have an equitable claim to payment at the conventional rate of 3/- a dollar, on the grounds that the salaries or pensions upon which their contributions to the scheme have been calculated, although nominally expressed in dollars, were actually equivalent to sterling salaries at the fixed rate referred to, owing to the operation of exchange compensation allowances or other special exchange arrangements.

Government has recognized that in certain of these cases an equitable claim exists and it is, therefore, desired to have authority to make payment at the special rate in such cases after consideration by the Executive Council.

The general position will, however, remain that ordinary dollar pensions under the Widows' and Orphans' Pension Scheme will not be entitled to any rate of exchange other than the current rate, wherever paid.

I now move that the resolution relating to Widows' and Orphans' Pension Fund passed on the 1st day of June, 1938, be rescinded and that the following resolution be substituted therefor:—

It is hereby resolved that the resolution of this Council adopted on August 2, 1902, requiring that pensions paid in England from the Widows' and Orphans' Pension Fund be paid at the rate of 3/- to the dollar shall not apply to any pension granted on or after June 1, 1938, except in special cases where the Governor in Council has deemed it equitable to sanction payment at that rate.

The resolution was carried unanimously.

ATTENDANCE AT COUNCIL

Present at the meeting were:—His Excellency the Governor, Sir Geoffrey Northcote; Brigadier T. McLeod, representing His Excellency the General Officer Commanding Troops; The Colonial Secretary, Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith; the Attorney-General, Hon. Mr. C. G. Alabaster; the Secretary for Chinese Affairs, Hon. Mr. W. J. Carrie; the Financial Secretary, Hon. Mr. S. Calne; the Harbour Master, Hon. Comdr. G. F. Hole, R.N. (ret'd.); the Director of Public Works, Hon. Mr. A. G. W. Tickle; the Commissioner of Police, Hon. Mr. C. G. Perdue; the Director of Medical Services, Hon. Dr. P. S. Selwyn-Clarke; and the following honourable unofficial members:—Sir Henry Pollock, Mr. T. N. Chan, Mr. M. K. Lo, Mr. S. H. Dodwell, Mr. Leo D'Almada e Castro, Jr., Mr. T. E. Pearce, Mr. W. N. T. Tam, Mr. J. K. Bousfield; and Mr. C. C. Burgess (Deputy Clerk of Councils).

SUPPLEMENTARY EXPENDITURE OF $1,959,140

Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo Queries A.R.P. Provisions

Following the meeting of the Legislative Council yesterday, a meeting of the Finance Committee was held, presided over by the Colonial Secretary, Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith, at which supplementary votes totalling $1,959,140 were approved.

The sums were made up of two lots, one, totalling $181,360 for general needs; the other, $1,777,780 for Air Raid Precaution provisions—being for the carrying out of the policy as regards A.R.P. announced in the statement made by the Colonial Secretary at the Council meeting which had just concluded.

Nothing Done

In connection with the A.R.P. total, the Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo said: I hope the public will appreciate, from the announcement in Council, that nothing can be done and nothing will be done so far as affording shelters to the general public is concerned. I have heard that Government has obtained advice from various committees in regard to the whole of A.R.P. matters affecting Hongkong. As I have no knowledge at all, I really cannot say how far the decision reached by Government is really correct.

For instance, I cannot be satisfied that some kind of air protection to the very poor in the very densely-populated districts is not feasible, but nothing has been put forward.

Statement Desired

The honourable member went on to say that if the public, after hearing the announcement, felt dissatisfied, and made some move in the matter, it was possible that further might be heard on the subject in Council.

"I would like to ask whether it is not possible to make some kind of a statement in connection with A.R.P. matters, food-supply, etc. What I mean is, although most of us have heard of the workings of this Committee and that Committee, nothing has been put before this Council to show how well or how ill the Colony is prepared to meet an attack if it came."

Not Relevant

The President: I think your attitude is perfectly correct and not unexpected, but it is not strictly relevant.

RETALIATORY MEASURES

THE PARTICULARLY strong views that have been expressed in the British press regarding the retaliatory measures which Britain should take to meet the situation which has been created by the blockade of Tientsin and which is having repercussions on British and foreign interests throughout China, must convince the Government that the situation is one which brooks no further delay. With the threatened occupation of Foochow and Wenchow by the Japanese, China's coastal blockade will be complete and the effect of this will undoubtedly cause further economic difficulties for Britain as far as her trade with China is concerned unless a definite stand against Japanese infringement of foreign trading rights is made.

THE USUALLY outspoken "News Chronicle" is most insistent on this question. After pointing out that there should be no giving in to the Japanese demands for a settlement of the Tientsin affair on their own terms, the paper urges that the position which has now been created justifies the immediate necessity for extending the scope of assistance which has been given to China. The granting of further financial aid is the best means to make Japan change her policy towards the whole question at issue. Those who have the business interests of Britain in the Far East at heart will undoubtedly support this view. The Japanese, having discovered that their hopes of bringing China to her knees are fast disappearing, have now resorted to a subtle means of diverting attention from the China incident in order to force China to give in by attempting to cut off the help she is getting from sympathetic powers.

THERE IS no longer any room for doubt that, unless China's resistance against this new method of attack is strengthened, she will find it

DANCE HOSTESS ROBBED

Chinese Committed To Sessions

ALLEGED QUARREL WITH FATHER

Committal proceedings were heard before Mr. R. A. D. Forrest at the Central Court yesterday, when George Tong, alias Tong Fat, alias "La Cha" (Dirty) Tong, was charged with robbery of a gold wrist watch and finger rings, from Kwan Hing-hing, dance hostess, of the Lido Cabaret, on the roof of No. 330 Lockhart Road, Wanchai, on March 5. Defendant was committed for trial.

Defendant was committed for trial. Det. Insp. W. N. Darkin prosecuted. Outlining the facts, Insp. Darkin said that when the girl came out of the Lido Dancing Hall, about 2 a.m., she met defendant who told her that a European friend wished to see her. Defendant then took her to Lockhart Road, where he demanded that she give up her jewellery. Defendant pushed her, and threatened to stab her, but he actually did not possess any weapon at the time. Defendant was arrested on information.

Kwan Hing-hing said that she knew defendant as "Dirty" Tong. She recounted the incident and added that defendant said he had a quarrel with his father and wanted to raise some money, with witness' jewellery, to buy a gun to deal with his father. Witness said she would get some money at home and give it to him, as the jewellery did not belong to her.

On her refusal, he twisted her hand behind and took off her gold wrist watch, and subsequently the two gold rings. Defendant also searched her hand-bag. Chan Su-peng P. S. C. 630, gave evidence of the arrest of the defendant at the Tung On Wharf, and the discovery of the watch.

COOLIE DIES OF STAB WOUNDS

Stated to have sustained stab wounds in a fight in the Wanchai district, on June 23, Tam Kwong, 30-year-old coolie, died in hospital. The police have offered a reward of $250 in connection with the murder.

increasingly difficult to maintain her stand against the aggressor. The British Government and all those other Powers who have given their moral support to China in her present crisis, must realize, therefore, that, by helping China now in a more substantial way than in the past, they will not only help her to preserve her independence and sovereignty from ruthless aggression, but also consolidate their own position in the Far East against any attempts that may be made in the future to oust them from their lawful and honourable associations with the Chinese. Britain, as China's closest friend, is quite rightly expected to take the lead in this matter.

THE "NEWS CHRONICLE'S" view is wholeheartedly supported by the other sections of the British press. "The Manchester Guardian" goes even further and urges that not only help of a monetary kind should be made available to China, but that her very fighting forces should be strengthened with war equipment. Never before has the British press, throughout the whole Empire, been so unanimous in their views as to the policy which their statesmen should adopt in dealing with a subject that has assumed such grave proportions and which has already resulted in a serious loss of British prestige and honour.

The warning that has been sounded that failure to take up the Japanese challenge will have disastrous results on the position in Europe, cannot be neglected and the Government must, therefore, give the matter their most serious consideration. They owe it to the people of the British Empire—it is a responsibility which they cannot ignore and which they must preserve with all the means at their disposal if right and justice is to prevail over armed force.

"DARTS" GAME WATCHED BY DETECTIVE

Two Men Face Gaming Charge

Charged with keeping a common gaming house for the purpose of money being received by him, or on his behalf, as a consideration for an undertaking to give therefor certain valuable things on a contingency relating to a game known as "Darts" contrary to Section 6 of Gambling Ordinance No. 201, 1891, and being keeper of a room at No. 55 Stanley Street, ground floor, on June 13, Wan Kan and Lai Yee appeared before Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Court yesterday.

Defendants were represented by Mr. Alfred Y. Hon, whilst the Assistant Crown Solicitor, Mr. J. B. Prentiss prosecuted.

Mr. Prentiss said that on the day in question, a detective was sent to No. 55 Stanley Street ground floor, to keep watch on a game of darts from 7.20 to 8.15 p.m. There were 13 or 14 people in the shop. There was a counter, and behind it was a dart board. The players bought counters of 1, 2, 4, 6, and 10 cents, and placed it on the counter of the colour he wished to throw at. Then a dart was thrown and if he happened to get the colour he won the prize. On the wall were two lists of prizes which consisted of candles and cigarettes. Another list described the prizes.

Evidence was given and the hearing was adjourned to July 4 at noon.

IT WILL TAKE A LONG TIME TO ERADICATE THE RESENTMENT FELT OVER JAPANESE ACTS

STERN WARNINGS BY LORD ELIBANK & MR. CHURCHILL

Lord Elibank, speaking in the House of Lords, and Mr. Winston Churchill, in the course of a speech in London, both uttered stern warnings yesterday with regard to the situation in the Far East.

Lord Elibank warned the Government against making any form of concessions to the Japanese in the forthcoming negotiations over Tientsin, while Mr. Churchill referred to the incidents being created in China by Japan as "a trap to lure us away from the seas where any major trouble, which may arise, will be decided."

LONDON, June 29 (Reuter).—In the course of his remarks in the House of Lords yesterday, Lord Elibank said that it would take a long time to eradicate the resentment felt in regard to the Japanese acts.

He mentioned that among the points which were agitating the public mind was the report that the Japanese Government might propose British co-operation in suppressing all anti-Japanese elements.

Without saying anything offensive to Japan, he believed that the word "co-operation" in the Japanese dictionary meant giving everything to Japan for which they ask without question and he asked the Government and Sir Robert Craigie (British Ambassador in Tokyo) to fully bear this in mind when negotiating.

"A Death Blow"

Britain might also be asked to support Japanese currency in North China. The British Government had declined to accept this suggestion, but he wished to urge the Government to stand fast on that line and not to give way one iota to what would mean a death blow to international trade and British trade likewise in China and the Far East.

Lord Elibank said that there was also the Japanese attitude in connexion with the $50,000,000 in silver deposited in the Chinese banks in Tientsin. There was a suggestion that this silver might be handed over to Japan in the course of the negotiations and he could not urge too strongly upon the Government the disastrous effect this would have upon the Chinese mind and upon the position of all British nationals in the East, and he hoped this would be brought into effect in any way.

Lord Elibank concluded by saying: "I wish to emphasize very strongly the feeling of resentment, of very strong resentment in this country and in the British Empire. Japan must not go too far in this matter, because there is a point at which we may not be able to hold out any longer."

GOVERNMENT & THE PRESS

Resolution On Future Relations

LONDON, June 29 (Reuter).—The Empire Press Union Conference adopted a comprehensive resolution embodying suggestions made during the debate on the relations between the Government and the Press.

The resolution urged that the Department of Information, directed by Lord Perth, should concentrate on the dissemination of facts and on their interpretation where necessary, leaving the organs of public information to draw their own conclusions.

That complementary to this department, regular contacts between representatives of journalists and Ministers should be maintained.

British Wireless News

That the British Official Wireless news should not be expanded beyond its present volume and should be confined to the dissemination of information of national importance; and

That measures should be adopted, in co-operation with the Colonial Office, to make its service available to newspapers where, owing to geographical or other causes, no general news service was available.

Lord Halifax Replies

Lord Halifax, the British Foreign Secretary, said that he had very present in mind the feeling which the incidents under notice must have particularly aroused among British residents in China, especially those upon whom the principal burden had fallen and who had in their peculiarly difficult circumstances the sympathy of the whole of the people of this country.

He assured Lord Elibank that his observations would be duly noted and he was sure Lord Elibank would have the same confidence as he in the British representatives at Tokyo to see that these considerations would be properly borne in mind.

MR. CHURCHILL'S WARNING

LONDON, June 29 (Reuter).—Mr. Winston Churchill brought his speech in London, in the course of which he warned his listeners that the tension in Europe would become most severe in the next three months, to a close with pointed reference to the Tientsin situation.

He said: "I see that Dr. Goebbels' Italian counterpart, Signor Gayda, has been jeering at us because we have not gone to war with Japan on account of the gross insults to which Englishmen and New Zealanders have been subjected to in Tientsin."

"I am glad the Government has not been provoked into taking their eye off the target. These studied insults and affronts from the Japanese—a nation hitherto renowned for their good manners—may well have been a trap to lure us away from the seas where any major trouble, which may arise, will be decided."

Position in Mediterranean

"We ought not to send out Fleet to the Far East until we are sure of our position in the Mediterranean. Then probably it will not be necessary, because once our position is sure in the Mediterranean, I think you will find that the Japanese will recover their old and long-famed courtesy."

"I don't believe that Japan, deeply entangled in China—nay, bleeding in every pore in China—her strength ebbing away in a wrongful and impossible task and with the whole weight of Russia upon her in North China, will wish to make war upon the British Empire until she sees how matters go in Europe."

"Therefore, we should always approve both patience and firmness by the Government towards the vexatious problems of the Far East."

Mr. Churchill concluded with another appeal for the conclusion of an alliance with the Soviet.

ANGLO-FRENCH AGREEMENT ON MOSCOW TALKS

PARIS, June 29 (Reuter).—Following a meeting between M. Bonnet, the French Foreign Minister, and Sir Eric Phipps, British Ambassador in Paris, it was stated in authoritative French circles that the French and British Governments have reached agreement on the fresh instructions to be sent to Moscow.

Sir William Seeds, British Ambassador in Moscow, Mr. William Strang, Britain's Special Envoy, and M. Naglar, the French Ambassador in Moscow, are expected to see M. Molotov to-day.

Cheung Hung, 33, unemployed, was remanded for 48 hours for further inquiries, when he appeared before Mr. T. J. Houston, at Central Magistracy yesterday charged with demanding $50, with menaces, on June 12.

GROWING TENSION IN FOOCHOW

PREPARATIONS FOR JAPANESE LANDING

CHUNGKING, June 29 (Reuter).—The Chinese authorities have declared Martial Law in Foochow, which they are preparing to defend against the Japanese attack, according to Chinese despatches.

From to-day, no foreign or Chinese ships will be allowed to enter or leave the harbour.

The Chinese shore batteries yesterday exchanged heavy fire with eight Japanese warships in the Min River.

Heavy fighting between the Chinese and a Japanese landing force is reported to have occurred on the island of Yuhwang, near Wenchow.

KANMEN EVACUATED

KINHWAI, June 29 (Central).—Owing to the destruction of their defences, Chinese forces evacuated from Kanmen, Hsien city of Yuhwang Island, off the Chekiang coast, yesterday.

The Japanese, who effected a landing on the island on Tuesday, were reinforced by 200 more marines yesterday morning. Heavy fighting preceded the Chinese withdrawal.

The Japanese, after entering Kanmen, set many houses on fire. The conflagration was still raging at a late hour last night.

The right of free entry of British vessels into Chinese ports is insisted upon by the British authorities who, as stated last week, will refuse to recognise any attempt by the Japanese to alter these conditions.

So far, merchant ships calling at the ports affected by the Japanese blockade have not attempted to enter, but British warships have been instructed to assist in landing passengers and mail, if required.

H.M.S. Scout has already assisted to land passengers and mail from three steamers.

The naval authorities have advised all British shipping companies to maintain regular sailings.

In addition to the Scout, H.M.S. Thetis is also at Swatow, while the Dorsetshire and Dufferin are at Amoy and the Duchess and Daring are at Foochow.

THIRD BIG FIRE IN THREE DAYS

LONDON, June 29 (Reuter).—The third big fire in three days occurred in Upper Thames Street where a warehouse was gutted. Scores of fire engines battled the flames while further assistance was rendered by auxiliary fire brigades.

There were no casualties but some persons had to jump onto the mudbanks of the Thames in order to escape.

TERRITORIAL ARMY RECRUITING

LONDON, June 29 (BWS).—During the fortnight ended last Saturday, 4,585 recruits joined the Field Force of the Territorial Army, bringing the total territorial strength to over 410,000.

The number of officers and men who have joined since the announcement twelve weeks ago of the doubling of the Territorial Army is about 190,000.

Lai Gan, 20-year-old youth, of Ningpo Road, died on the way to the Kowloon Hospital, after having suffered from a fit.

Sang Sang, 101 of the Agricultural Farm, has reported the theft of his bicycle, valued at $15, while delivering goods in Nathan Road at 5 p.m. yesterday.

M. Henri Cosme, French Ambassador to China, arrived in Hongkong by Air France plane from Hanoi on Wednesday on his way from Chungking to Shanghai. The Ambassador will stay in the Colony for one or two days before leaving for the North.

ITALO-GERMAN AIR FORCES TO CO-OPERATE

BERLIN, June 29 (Reuter).—An agreement for the close co-operation between the German and Italian air forces was announced yesterday in a communique issued after a meeting held in Berlin between Field Marshal von Goering and Gen. Valle, Chief of the Italian Air Force.

CHINESE ADVANCE IN SHANSI

JAPANESE SUFFER HEAVY LOSSES

LOYANG, June 29 (Central).—More strategic points near Kaolochen, in south Shansi, have been retaken by the Chinese in their pursuit of the Japanese retreating from Yuanku. These include Machi-shan, Yienchiashan, and Liu-lin.

The Japanese, who suffered heavy casualties in their defeat at Yuanku last Sunday, have sustained further losses.

The Japanese at Kianghsien, whose number was recently increased to over 10,000, launched a drive towards Yicheng, in the north-east, yesterday. Fighting is reported to have started.

About 700 Japanese attacked the Chinese positions north of Chang-tienchen on Tuesday. They were beaten back with severe losses.

Japanese Enveloped

YUNGYUN, KWANGTUNG, June 29 (Central).—Five hundred Japanese infantry and cavalry men invading Tienwo, south of Fabsien, were subjected to an enveloping attack by the Chinese on June 27, suffering heavy casualties.

Concentrated Fire

SIUSHUI, KIANGSI, June 29 (Central).—A Japanese unit moving along the highway west of Wuning in northwest Kiangsi on the morning of June 28 was intercepted by the Chinese at Hsiao Chia Temple and Lan Tiao Pao, about five miles west of Wuning. Subsequent to concentrated Chinese fire, the Japanese lost more than thirty men. The survivors fled eastward.

Irregulars Revolt

CHANGSHA, June 29 (Central).—Taking advantage of a Chinese attack on the Japanese, more than 400 Chinese irregulars under Japanese employ near Hwangpeli, 30 miles northeast of Hankow in east Hupei, revolted against their overlords recently.

They seized two Japanese trench mortars, over 100 rifles and 10 machine-guns, and joined the Chinese fold.

Two hundred more Chinese irregulars in the vicinity have also turned against their Japanese commanders.

JAPANESE GIVE BRITISH MISSION NOTICE TO QUIT

PEIPING, June 29 (Reuter).—The Japanese Military authorities are reported to have given the British Anglican Mission one week's notice to vacate the hospital in the suburbs of Tatung, in Shanai.

Bishop Norris has left for Tatung to investigate the Japanese demands.

It is stated that the property is worth $400,000 but the Japanese are offering $70,000 for it.

Conscription Extension Planned

LONDON, June 29 (T/Ocean).—A plan for extending the British conscription up to a 24 years of age limit is being prepared by the British War Office, according to the "Daily Mail" this morning, which states that influential Government leaders have demanded this step.

This would affect 800,000 men and would encounter considerable difficulty.

The "Daily Express" demands, in its leading article, an extension of conscription and refers, in this connection, to Premier Daladier's announcement that France would keep one military class in uniform.

JAPANESE POLICY IN CHINA

PRINCIPLES OF OPEN DOOR CONTRAVENED

Dr. Wellington Koo's Lecture in London

LONDON, June 29 (Reuter).—Dr. Wellington Koo, in delivering a Golden Memorial lecture before the Royal Society of London, said that not only had China's sovereignty been encroached upon, but inevitably with this encroachment "flagrant acts in contravention of the principle of the 'open door' had taken place."

It seemed to be one of the principal objects of Japanese policy in China to undermine and destroy the principle of equal opportunity, which had proved to be, for nearly half a century, a stabilizing influence on the relations between China and the Powers.

Real Intentions

"The Japanese Government has revealed more and more clearly its real intentions. The objects sought to be obtained are evidently the total elimination from China of the rights and interests which other powers have acquired under treaties with China."

Dr. Koo said that the situation for European and American commercial interests in China in territory now under Japanese military occupation was becoming more precarious every day.

Whatever assurances Japan may have given as to her intention of respecting the "Open Door" policy in China, it was obvious that the truth remained that the door had not been kept open for the entry of foreign interests, but only for their exit.

A Warning

Dr. Koo warned his listeners that if Japan should ever be able to lay her hands on the whole of China and thus obtain control of her immense manpower, her great possibilities as a market and her vast storehouses of mineral and agricultural wealth, it was certain that she would "convert these limitless and invaluable assets of power and strength into formidable means and instruments of domination and conquest."

Distinguished Gathering

The subject of Dr. Koo's lecture was "The Open Door and World Peace" and was delivered before a large and distinguished gathering with Lord Lytton presiding.

Dr. Koo said that the "Open Door" was a necessary corollary to the modern conception of colonial responsibility as a trust. In the Far East it had come to be recognised as the fundamental principle of relations not only between China and the foreign powers, but between the foreign powers themselves.

Terrible Hardships

LONDON, June 29 (Reuter).—"Of all the terrible hardships in the world to-day, China's is the most terrible," declared Mr. Noel Buxton at the luncheon of the Overseas League in support of the China Campaign Committee.

He painted an appalling picture of the sufferings in China and appealed for assistance for humanitarian work. "If only to vindicate our own consciences," he concluded.

The appeal was supported by Miss Louise Rainer, star of the film "Good Earth," who said that modern invention in the last fifty years had made us realize the smallness of the world and that what happens in China to-day may happen here.

A dispute over refusal of payment for his ticket, led to a fight between Ma Yuk-sang, a F. and O. toolee and the collector on a Yumati ferry, as a result of which, Ma was treated at the Queen Mary Hospital for a cut lip.

In an alleged attempt to commit suicide, Tam Wah-sing was removed to the Queen Mary Hospital last night from the Kai Sang Boarding House, Connaught Road Central, suffering from the effects of opium poisoning, believed to have been self-administered.

British Memorandum On Anglo-German Naval Pact Termination

LONDON, June 29 (Reuter).—The text of the memorandum on the termination of the Anglo-German naval agreement, which was handed to Herr von Ribbentrop by the British Embassy in Berlin, was published by the Foreign Office last night.

It says that it is not the case that in whatever part of Europe Germany might be involved in war, Britain must always take an attitude hostile to Germany. Britain could only be hostile if Germany committed an act of aggression against another country.

The statement declares that the description in the memorandum from the German Government of British policy, as one of encirclement, is without justification.

Britain has no desire to restrict the development of German trade, and the memorandum points out that already a considerable supply of free exchange is made available to Germany for the acquisition of raw materials.

Confidence & Goodwill

The British Government look forward to a discussion of the further improvement of Germany's economic position, if only mutual confidence and goodwill can be established.

The consistent desire of His Majesty's Government, far from being the promotion of war with Germany, is to establish Anglo-German relations on a basis of mutual recognition of the needs of both countries, consistently with regard for the rights of other nations.

The main object of the naval agreement was to introduce an element of stability and to avoid unnecessary competition in armaments. Hence the agreement contained no provision for unilateral denunciation, but clearly contemplated termination or modification only by mutual consultation.

Only Provision

The agreement of 1935 was expressly stated to be permanent. The only provision, apart from the special case of submarines which it was contemplated might entail modification, was the violent disturbance of the general equilibrium of naval armaments, and even then modification would only take place in consultation with His Majesty's Government.

The German Government do not maintain that such a condition, in fact exists. Still less have they invited His Majesty's Government to examine the situation before taking their action.

The memorandum states that past forecast of strength which His Majesty's Government made to Germany were given solely for the purpose of supplementing the provisions of the 1935 agreement. No further forecasts will be necessary, since they were designed merely to allow Germany to make full use of her 1935 quota.

If Germany contemplates negotiation of another agreement, His Majesty's Government would be glad to receive some indication of the scope and purpose which the German Government would consider appropriate to such an agreement.

Particularly, His Majesty's Government desire to know firstly, when in the German view, discussions should take place, secondly, how the German Government would propose to ensure that any action in the shape of denunciation or modification of a new agreement during the term of its validity should carry the consent of both parties.

BERLIN COMMENT

BERLIN, June 29 (Reuter).—Herr Hitler and the German Foreign Minister, Herr Joachim von Ribbentrop, and other leaders were immediately informed of the British memorandum. Conference took place and the memorandum was carefully examined its context being issued to the press.

The first comment, contained in "Voelkischer Beobachter," is wholly negative and asserts that the British note is no contribution to peace but only justifies cancellation of the pact.

The newspaper describes the memorandum as "written in a provocative way" and says it merely denies the encirclement policy and "speak in one meagre sentence, cloaked in unfriendly terms, of willingness to negotiate."

BAD WEATHER DEFERS THETIS SALVAGE

LONDON, June 29 (BWS).—The salvage ship Zello will not leave Birkenhead to-night for the scene of the Thetis disaster because of bad weather conditions in Liverpool Bay where half a gale is raging.

The decision as to the future sailing of the Zello will be made when weather conditions become more suitable.

NUTRITION & HEALTH

Nutrition, in its relation to health and disease, forms the subject of an interesting article contributed by Dr. Li Stoo-yu, a member of the Nutrition Research Committee of Hongkong. The following are excerpts from the article:

Nutrition sometimes reads "good food." Live organisms obtain their nutrients through food to supply their bodies and then excrete the accumulated waste. This exchange of materials is called nutrition and requires the following five actions:—(1) Intake of food (2) digestion (3) absorption (4) replacement (5) excretion.

Function Of Nutrition

What is the function of nutrition? It is the replacement of the old by the new. During the life of a body the nutrient element of good is ceaselessly being digested, absorbed, retained in the body (as blood and bones) or stored as materials for heat production (as glucose).

Such process of maintaining the organs is called metabolism (metabolism may be defined as building or organizing). But organisms have to maintain the organs, and to produce body heat or energy for various physical actions. It is necessary to change the metabolized materials to simple forms for the production of heat and energy. Such a process is called catabolism. (Catabolism may be described as breaking down or dividing).

Goal Of Health

What is to be done to fulfil the conditions of nutrition if one wants to reach the goal of health? Generally you know the sanitary conditions about and the harm of overeating or underfeeding. Perhaps many of you do not know the requirements of nutrition in food and how to take them in proportion. The quality of the same nutrient is different from different sources. It is the same chemically but is different when used physiologically. Again, due to personal differences of digestion and absorption or due to the way of cooking and storage the same nutrient may be caused to change. All of this may influence our health.

Chinese Food

According to Professor Woo, first, the amount of animal protein in Chinese food is too low; second, even if the plant protein taken is as good as animal protein the total amount consumed is less than that consumed by the Americans. He discussed thoroughly in his "General View on Nutrition" the lack of phosphorus and calcium, and pointed out the way for remedy.

Sickness

Any violation of the required conditions for health will cause poor development and weakness of the body in mild cases or sickness in severe cases. In comparison the two harmful effects are the same. However, sickness is easy to find out and can be taken care of. If the sickness is not long in duration good health may be recovered without medical care. But the origin of weakness due to malnutrition is sometimes not easy to locate.

All the sickness arising from malnutrition can be entirely cured by improving the nutrient elements without any need of medicine. Moreover, those who study nutrition must apply the knowledge of it to keep up health and prevent diseases. Curing of diseases is secondary.

Rapid Advances

Nowadays, science is booming. The science of nutrition is also making radical advances day after day. Modern people particularly doctors, nurses, good specialists, housewives, nursing mothers, educators, good merchants and economists, managers of large plants and stores, etc., ought to be nutrition-conscious and nutrition-minded. All urgently need the knowledge of nutrition. This is the reason why the Government of Hongkong organized the Nutrition Research Committee.

The Headquarters of the China Command has published a list of conditions for joining the Officers' Emergency Reserve (Aboard), membership of which is open to academically or technically qualified British subjects, the sons of British subjects, of pure European descent, between the ages of 25 and 55 years.

All applicants must pass a physical examination, provided free by the China Command Headquarters under arrangements to be notified later. Cases with a doubtful medical history or suffering from a disability liable to be aggravated by service will not be accepted.

Applicants are required to provide testimonials from the senior serving or retired officers of the fighting services or the civil service, senior members of business firms (not more than one from any firm), local clergymen or magistrates who have known them during the past four years.

EMERGENCY COMMISSIONS

When called for service, volunteers of the O.E.R. will be appointed to emergency commissions as 2nd Lieutenants. No guarantee is given that temporary commissions will be given in ranks held by applicants who previously served as officers, except in cases where such applicants have been allowed to retain their rank on resignation, retirement or demobilization.

Qualified medical practitioners will be accepted for service with the R.A.M.C. provided they are registered under the Medical Acts in force in Great Britain and Northern Ireland. It is desirable that those who have already signified their willingness to serve in the event of an emergency should re-register under the present scheme.

CERTIFICATES NEEDED

Civil servants or civilian employees of Government Departments must accompany their applications with a certificate from their department permitting them to enrol.

Applications should be made to the Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, Headquarters, China Command. Correspondence in connection with applications shall be treated as strictly confidential. Details of the arrangements to be made as regards training, and allowances connected therewith, will be published later.

In the event of mobilization, members of the Officers' Emergency Reserve should not write to or call at China Command Headquarters offering their services, the statement concludes. All members will be notified when their services are required.

THE ARMY

100 YEARS' SERVICE

The 2nd Battalion, The Durham Light Infantry, completes 100 years' service this year.

The initial postings to the unit were made on October 8, 1839. In that year Bombay Orders stated that the 2nd Bombay European Regiment of Light Infantry was to be formed and armed with the double-edged musket. Four-fifths of the battalion's service has been abroad in Persia, Malta, Gibraltar, Egypt, Sudan, France, Belgium, Germany, Batoum, Turkey, China, India, and Burma.

RESERVE FLEET SHIPS COMMISSIONED

Consequent on the calling up of naval reservists for training, five ships of the Reserve Fleet at Devonport have been commissioned for service and left for Portland. They are the Watchman and Viscount, which will join a destroyer flotilla, and the Magnolia, Laurel and Holly, which are to serve in a minesweeping flotilla.

268 MILES PER HOUR

Fastest Plane In World For Training R.A.F.

One of the most interesting planes which will shortly be in large-scale production for the R.A.F. is the Phillips and Powis Master 1, two-seater, dual control, monoplane, which has a top speed of 268 m.p.h. and is claimed to be the fastest service trainer in any air force.

Until quite recently, pupils in R.A.F. flying schools received advanced instruction on obsolete service biplanes such as Harts and Hinds.

These, though excellent machines in their day, were not equipped with landing flaps, retractable under-carriages, variable pitch airscrews and other characteristics of modern service aircraft which have produced a new technique in the handling of aeroplanes, particularly during the take-off and landing.

Lack of suitable British trainers, embodying the refinements now standard on the latest types of service aircraft, was the principal reason for the Air Ministry's decision to order 400 N.A.A. Harvard trainers from the United States.

Single Cabin

The Master 1, which is similar in appearance and performance to the latest types of monoplane single-engine fighters, has been designed as a high-speed, dual control, training aircraft which will prepare pilots for flying some of the most recent types of service planes now supplied to operational units.

The pupil and instructor are accommodated in tandem seating in a single cabin, which facilitates inter-communication. The seats and rudder-bars are instantaneously adjustable to suit pilots of varying heights. The machine is fitted with a Rolls-Royce Kestrel 715 h.p. engine, three-blade controllable pitch airscrew, retractable under-carriage and night-flying equipment.

EMPIRE NEWS

CENSUS OF WEALTH IN AUSTRALIA

The Menzies Government has attained the calm of recess after the most trying week in its short history. The Country party, which consists mainly of farmer members, harassed and obstructed the new United Australia Party Government, apparently merely to show that it holds the whip hand.

The Ministry clearly will be unable to take a determined, strong stand and forge ahead with its programme unless it is somehow able to negotiate a new coalition with the Country party, which left the Government on the death of Mr. Lyons. But at present there is no prospect of this.

The National Register Bill, with the wealth census provision tacked on, was carried. The wealth census was accepted against the advice of more experienced Ministers, who stated that most of the information was already in the possession of the taxation departments. It provides that individuals, companies and firms shall record all forms of property owned if in excess of £500.

Amended Plans For Relief Work

Acting on representations by elected members and the advice of the Labour officer, the Governor of Jamaica, Sir Arthur Richards, has amended the plans for relief work. He announces that work will start soon if sufficient unemployed apply for it.

The new terms of employment will be 8d per day, but labourers will only work six hours instead of eight, and will be given a free lunch by the Government.

Chinese tea destined for foreign markets is being produced under more and more improved scientific methods under Chinese Government auspices. In order to aid tea producers and merchants, the

HELP FOR CHINA'S DOMESTIC TRADE

CHUNGKING, June 28 (Central)

—Besides regulating the flow of China's imports and exports, the Foreign Trade Commission of the Ministry of Finance has undertaken to help supply markets in the interior with Chinese manufactured goods produced outside free China. It handled $1,345,830.93 worth of commodities for interior cities last year.

The Commission's service to domestic markets falls into three categories: shipping and wholesaling by the Commission itself; forwarding for retailers; and wholesaling for producers. Goods forwarded for retailers accounted for $818,023.67 in 1938. Commodities snipped and sold by the Commission itself amounted to $397,850.28. Wholesaling for producers totalled $332,157.

IMPORTANT MARKETS

Domestic goods handled by the Commission came mostly from Shanghai where a large stock of Chinese manufactured goods was stored at the outbreak of the hostilities. The important markets in the rear provinces include Chungking, Kunming and Changsha.

Cloth, rubber shoes, socks and stockings, underwear, and other daily necessities were the chief articles bought and sold by the Commission.

report states, the Farmers Bank of China and the Bank of Communications have jointly earmarked a sum of $20,000,000 to be granted as credit loans in the tea-producing areas.

STEEL ORDERS FROM JAPAN FOR U.S. FIRMS

NEW YORK, June 29 (Reuter)—Orders for steel mill equipment, valued at several million dollars, have been placed with the United States by two Japanese firms.

Weekly Wheat Report

REYNOLDS AND GIBSON (PER PAYNE & CO.)

Liverpool.—Until recently considerable anxiety was felt for U.S. and Canadian crops owing to lack of adequate rainfall, but prospects have now been greatly improved by general beneficial rains. This coupled with a poor trade demand, large shipments from the Argentine and some speculative selling brought a smart decline in values during the last few days and prices finished 2-3/4 to 2-1/8 down on balance.

On Thursday the Dominion Bureau of Statistics issued the following condition figures:—

Spring Wheat (All Canada): May 31, 1939, 94 per cent; May 31, 1938, 99 per cent; May 31, 1937, 85 per cent.

On this figure a production of 380 million bushels is estimated this year. Last year's crop was 350,010,000 bushels which itself was the best since 1932.

This was followed by a U.S.A. Bureau report on Friday. The yield of winter wheat was estimated at 523,431,000 bushels, compared with 543,928,000 a month ago, and a final outturn last season of 688,637,000 bushels. The condition of Spring wheat on June 1 was returned at 71 per cent, compared with 87 per cent, a year ago and an average for the past 10 years of 75.7 per cent.

Europe has experienced fine growing conditions this week and good progress has been made except perhaps in Italy where too much rain is reported.

Spring crops are now entering a most critical period and the market looks like being a weather affair for the immediate future.

Stocks of wheat in Liverpool: This week 702 loads, last week 698 ds.

Chicago.—Harvesting of the winter wheat is making good progress. It is reported that yields are relatively high with an excellent natural weight but the protein content is lower than a year ago. The Spring crop has improved as a result of the recent favourable weather.

Winnipeg.—At first, quotations were inclined to harden, but later eased under the absence of demand and on favourable crop news. Exports of wheat and flour during May are officially returned at 16,029,000 bushels compared with 4,097,000 bushels in the previous month. Since August 1, 1938, exports have totalled 135,269,000 bushels compared with 75,471,000 during the same period of the previous season.

U.S. SILVER PROBLEM

WASHINGTON, June 29 (Reuter)

—The Treasury has reduced the foreign silver price to 38.5 cents.

The House of Representatives voted to send the Monetary Bill to the Conference, after defeating an attempt by the Bill's opponents to have action delayed until after the expiration of June 30.

Devaluation Effect

NEW YORK, June 29 (Reuter)—The attention of foreign exchanges is focussed on the legislation struggle over the devaluation power and although trading is very quiet pending clarification of the problems with the chief European currencies, there have been showers of small changes in terms of the dollar.

There is little opinion among foreign exchanges regarding the outlook of the dollar trend when the devaluation power is eliminated, indicating that there is no expectation of any severe immediate effect.

Some said that the halt in the purchase of foreign silver is the same as the elimination of the devaluation power, and would, of course, make for firmness in the dollar because dollars thereby will be less readily available abroad.

London Price Fall

LONDON, June 29 (BWS)

There was a further decline in silver yesterday to the lowest level touched since December 1937.

The decline was due to the adjustment to the new buying price announced in Washington last night. Spot was 18-3/16 and forward 18.

BIG INCREASE IN BRITISH TRADE

Exports Rise
£7,500,000 In A Month

An all-round improvement in Britain's overseas trade is shown in the May returns issued by the Board of Trade. Both imports and exports were higher than last year and better than in any previous month of this year.

The figures were:
Exports, including re-exports.....£47,265,713
Imports.....£78,541,325

The increases above the figures for April and May of last year were as follows:

Over April 1938
Exports.....£7,557,149 £1,943,724
Imports.....£8,456,538 £3,142,531

Raw material imports accounted for a substantial proportion of the increase, being £2,393,431 greater than a year ago.

GENERAL IMPROVEMENT

The improvement was spread over a wide range of basic industries, including coal mining, cotton and woollen manufactures, chemicals and non-ferrous metal goods. Exports of iron and steel and associated manufactures showed, however, a small decrease compared with last year.

In respect of the increase in exports as compared with May of last year is the figure of £3,209,532 for articles mainly or wholly manufactured.

The number of motor-cars exported was 5,729, compared with 4,446 a year ago, the respective values being £681,772 and £511,953. Four warships were sent abroad, valued at £316,223, against two a year ago, worth £29,320.

While imports for the first five months of this year decreased by £27,269,233 compared with last year, exports were only £3,845,523 lower.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL

certain provisions which to his mind were trivial. He quoted Conditions 5 and 6, Regulation 14, Regulation 2 and Regulation 8.

In respect of Regulation 2, Mr. Lo said: "This legislates that the licenses will not allow a set to be worked by any other person, even a member of his household, and that the licence shall be carried by the person working it—I suppose that is an offence and a public officer can exercise his powers in connection thereto."

WHAT IS THE LIMIT

"As I have tried to point out, a public officer authorised by the Postmaster-General can arrest a person that he suspects to have contravened any of these regulations. I can quite anticipate the learned Attorney-General's retort that you must expect the officer to exercise his discretion in respect of these powers. That is not the question. The question is what is the limit, the extent, of those powers actually conferred—not one of to what extent they would be exercised."

The next point that ought to be borne in mind by this Council is Section 32 (2) which seems, to my mind, to contain quite clearly that the Postmaster-General or any deputy appointed by him is to be the prosecutor under this Ordinance.

"Now, Sir, can we ask ourselves this question: what were the provisions which the present provisions are to amend? The present section which is to be repealed is section 31, Section 31 (1) says this: If the Magistrate is satisfied by information on oath that there is ground for believing that a radio receiving station is being maintained, he can issue a warrant."

TRIVIAL CHARACTER

"Surely when the Postmaster-General applies for the warrant from the Magistrate, the Magistrate must consider how far the information on oath entitles him to issue that warrant. There is nothing adjudicating upon the nature of the information at stake. The information may be of the most trivial character but there is no check and the harm is done."

"The powers to be conferred on the Postmaster-General are very extraordinary powers and whatever reasons were put forward before the Executive Council—before the Executive—we here must see what were the objects and reasons put forward."

"If I may say so, I have never come across objects so imperfectly stated or reasons so inadequately given as set out here."

Mr. Lo then quoted some of these, incorporating in his remarks some extracts from English Acts, including the Dangerous Drug Act of 1920. But, he said, there was no suggestion that any of the new amendments were based on that Act.

Continuing, the honourable member said he hoped it would be appreciated that his objections were not in any way directed against the post of Postmaster-General, either past, present or future. The present occupier of the post had been on the Bench in Hongkong and Kowloon with great ability and dignity.

"But I do submit, most earnestly, that this Legislature cannot pass the Ordinance which passes in the hands of the Postmaster-General the impossible position of having to be prosecutor and judge at the same time."

"For these reasons, I must oppose the second reading of this Bill and I regret that I feel the matter so strongly that I shall ask Your Excellency for a division in this case."

ATTORNEY GENERAL REPLIES

In the course of his reply, the Attorney-General said that what they had to deal with principally in regard to this Ordinance were transmission sets. There were several reasons, one aspect of which were commercial and contractual reasons. The monopoly of telecommunications in the Colony was vested in Government and its licensees. Government had granted a monopoly, or a virtual monopoly, to Cable and Wireless under a recent scheme, and Government had to prevent any large institution from running its own private and secret receiving set.

"Secondly," the Attorney-General went on, "there is an international aspect which particularly touches upon the present situation in the Colony, which is neutral in an area of hostility and being a neutral country, it is the duty of the Government to take steps to prevent any belligerent to use the Colony as a base for its operations."

Convention No. 45 of 1907 forbids any belligerent to erect in neutral territory any radio, telegraphic apparatus that communicates information to military and naval sources outside that neutral territory, and it is specially incumbent on this Government to see that its neutral attitude is not compromised by any secret illicit sets of that nature.

"The third reason affects this Colony as a fortress. I do not want to go into any methods of detection, but it must be obvious to everybody that there are such things as telegraphic sets, which guide ships on their course, and it is highly important that in the event of war no secret illicit set can be put up which can be of any possible use in guiding enemy ships."

"As to the form which this amendment takes, the form is not a new one. It is copied almost word for word not only from the Dangerous Drugs Ordinance of 1935 but from all previous Dangerous Drug Ordinances."

QUESTION OF POWERS

Regarding the question of powers, the Attorney-General said: "I have already pointed out that there may be financial and political interests behind these illicit sets and these big interests are quite capable of locking a set behind doors and dismantling it, if need be."

"There has been already one case in which the few hours that were necessary to obtain a search warrant, under existing section 31, were sufficient to enable whoever had the set in question to get away."

"It is highly important that whoever acts should act immediately and whoever acts must act with knowledge."

Continuing, the Attorney-General stated that he had been informed by the Postmaster-General that the latter contemplated the authorisation for the purposes of the Ordinance, when necessary, of only four men, all of whom were inspectors or sub-inspectors of wireless, and as such, experts, who would be able to tell whether certain parts of machinery were in fact a wireless set dismantled. In conclusion, he submitted that it was absolutely necessary that the law should be strengthened as proposed.

GOVERNOR'S REMARKS

His Excellency: "I cannot add anything to what the learned Attorney-General has said except to emphasize the point that it is extremely desirable, from the point of view of the safety of the Colony, that this Ordinance should be approved in the form in which it has been drafted."

Following the taking of a division, on the request of Mr. Lo, His Excellency announced that the motion had been carried by 16 votes to 1.

When, in council, Clause 2 of the Ordinance was read out by the Deputy Clerk of Councils, Mr. Lo asked whether the Attorney-General would accept some words at the end of the clause that he thought would clarify the object of a search; namely, "in respect of transmitting apparatus."

NOT ACCEPTED

The Attorney-General replied that he could not accept that, because although he had said that the intention of those powers was to look for those particular sets, if the officer conducting the search found anything else illicit, it would be his duty to take proper action in respect thereof.

After a slight pause, the Hon. Mr. Lo said: "I have nothing to add, merely my suggestion."

His Excellency: If you wish to move any amendment, Mr. Lo: "If Government won't accept it is a waste of time. No use wasting time."

MRS. F. E. LAWRENCE PROGRESSING

Mrs. F. E. Lawrence, the European lady hurt in the Castle Peak Road bus accident on Tuesday is progressing favourably, following an operation at the Kowloon Hospital, where she was rushed after emergency treatment had been applied to her mangled arm by Mr. Inglis of the Home Pipe Company, who saw the accident.

Five Chinese passengers, none of whom were seriously injured as Mrs. Lawrence, were also sent to the hospital for treatment. All the occupants of the bus were exceptionally fortunate to escape as they did. Had the bus not hit a tree after the driver lost control, it would have plunged over the embankment into the sea.

WATER SUPPLY RESTRICTION NECESSARY

Capacity Not Sufficient To Meet Demand

Due to the large increase in population in the last two years, which has been estimated as being between 50 per cent. and 100 per cent. and to the consequent abnormal increase in consumption of water, the trunk mains and filters are of insufficient capacity to meet the demand now being made.

It is accordingly necessary to restrict the hours of supply. In order to reduce the inconvenience to a minimum a trial is first being made by introducing on alternate nights the period of restriction to the 6 hours between 10 p.m. and 4 a.m. These will also apply on alternate nights on the Island and on the Mainland.

Thus, on the Island the water will be shut off at 10 p.m. commencing on Saturday, July 1, on each of the odd numbered days of the month until 4 a.m. on the following even numbered days.

On the Mainland, water will be shut off at 10 p.m. commencing on Sunday, July 2, on the even numbered days of the month until 4 a.m. on the following odd numbered days.

The provision of new construction to minimise the deficiencies has already been authorized and it is anticipated that the position will be much improved by the beginning of the 1940 Summer.

MARCUS SHOW SUCCESS

Packed Houses At Queen's Theatre

THE MARCUS SHOW, whose season here has been eagerly awaited, staged a very successful opening at the Queen's Theatre yesterday, when full houses greeted the company at both performances.

Those who had seen the show on its last tour a few years ago, recalled some old friends among the principals, especially Ben McAtop, Les, Scherist, Ha Cha San, Lillian McCoy and Dorothy Condy.

The company, however, has been reinforced by a large number of other able entertainers.

RAPID-FIRE REVUE

"Broadway Vantages" is first and foremost, a rapid-fire revue, wherein dances, comedy acts, specialties and girl shows succeed one another without pause. It must be ranked as one of the best stage presentations which Hongkong has seen for many years.

Beautiful girls, who are the frame and background of the Marcus Show add spice and colour to the various scenes.

Lavishly mounted, the show was well produced and was a hit from the very start.

GREEKS EXPELLED

An expulsion order was made against two Greek circus artists, Spiridon Minessco, 44, and Stephen Stanesco, 33, charged with breach of passport regulations, before Mr. R. Edwards at Central Magistracy yesterday. Det-Sgt. P. H. Loughlin prosecuted.

Defendants lived in Shanghai for the last 10 years. They came to the Colony with the deliberate intention of securing a Chinese passport.

VAGRANCY CASE

Charged with vagrancy at Des Voeux Road Central on June 28, Victor Lak, 38, ship's engineer, appeared before Mr. R. Edwards at Central Magistracy yesterday. Defendant said that he missed the ship which sailed on Wednesday bound for Singapore. He went to the ship's agents, who informed him that he could have his ticket on advance, provided that he sold his belongings to pay for the ticket later.

The case was adjourned for 24 hours, during which period he will be given the opportunity to leave the Colony, or face the charge at the expiration of the 24 hours.

The body of a Chinese male, aged about 80, dressed in black clothes, found floating in the harbour opposite the P. and O. wharf yesterday, was removed to the Public Mortuary.
